TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Year C

17th to 18th September 2022

REFLECTION

Amos 8: 4-7

Psalm 112

1 Timothy 2: 1-8

Luke 16:1-13

The steward in the Gospel story was a rogue and a rascal, but he had some good instincts. In his own perverse way, he was trying to make friends. When he was about to lose his good salary, he realized that what mattered most in life was not money but human relationships. The steward used money to make friends for himself. Jesus turned to his disciples and said, 'Use money, tainted as it is, to win you friends, and thus make sure that when it fails you, they will welcome you into the tents of eternity.' The steward was only thinking about using his money to make earthly friends who would welcome him in their homes but Jesus was thinking of the importance of using money to make heavenly friends who would welcome us into their heavenly home. Jesus was saying if you have money invest it in people. When we use money in the service of others, especially in the service of those who are in greatest need, we will end up richer, in the deepest sense of that word.

MISSIO Fran Mainini has taken over the Missio Red Box Local Secretary for St Joseph's. Our donations for Missio are used by missionaries throughout the world who give witness to God's love in many different ways, delivering food to victims of natural disasters, providing education to those who have no such opportunities, basic health care in places where there is none and peace-making efforts in areas of violent conflict. Some of you may still have Red Boxes in your homes and collectors will be contacting you to collect these. However, as we use cash less and less these days there are other ways to donate which are detailed on a postcard that I will be handing out at the end of Mass. You may also donate online at <https://missio.org.uk/> Thank you for your support for Missio.

International Peace Day Wednesday 21st September at 12 noon - A short vigil will be held around the Peace Pole outside the Friends' Meeting House in Orchard Road. All are welcome. You are invited to bring a packed lunch to enjoy with others inside the Meeting Rooms after the vigil. Drinks will be provided.
