Anne Lewis keeping up with all her interests: Italian, ballet, cookery, walking, gardening AND completing the data entry for the parish census.

Viv Jones walks on the Hills most days with her special friend, Alan. This photo was taken during a recent walk to the bluebells.

Sam Craig's pumpkins and courgette seedlings. The slugs love them.

Doug Craig doing jobs such as fixing the guinea pig's run.

Oliver Wood raised £80 for the Scouts Hike to the Moon Campaign on The Big Night In by walking a mile dressed as an Astronaut.

Phil and Harry Morgans on a recent ramble.

The Morgans have been playing loads of basketball on their drive.

The Morgans have also been out for lots of walks and discovering new routes.

Chris Burger out walking.

Liz Burger reading amongst the azaleas and acers.

Liz Burger digging in the vegetable garden.

Alex Craig takes a break from Google Classroom to shoot some hoops.

Ruth Harrison moved house recently and the garden was in need of some TLC.

Fortunately, Ruth's mother, Janet Williams, is living with Ruth during lockdown and is a wonderful gardener.

Catherine Craig's picture from a walk to the Bluebells.

The beginnings of Carol Ann's Marian garden: "I cleared the bottom of a tree stump and found this hole, so put my statue of Our Lady there. I'm going to put plants with Marian names there as much as possible... Once I can source them!"

Sam Craig made a cake using a recipe from a lockdown recipe swap. This is Mrs Fieldhouse's Boiled Fruitcake.

And this is the fruit cake 30 minutes after asking the family if anyone would like some cake. It didn't last the afternoon!

We would love to see anything St Joseph's parishioners have been up to during lockdown. Send your photos to stjoseph.malvern@rcaob.org.uk for inclusion in next week's Bulletin and on the website. Make sure everyone in the photo is happy to have their image on the internet. We look forward to receiving them!
